The Prospects in the Wolverine State as Viewed From a Democratic Standpoint. "Michigan will surely be found in the democratic column again this fall," said Charles E. Miller, who is well known in industrial circles in the wolverine state and is now in Washington, to a STAR reporter. "The democrats are of two years ago that resulted in such a sweepout at the seams, turn shiny or brownish, fray at the edges, buttons continually falling off, buttonholes ripping. Infing coming out, &c. They are the kinds we do not keep, and yet our prices are no higher than you pay about town for inferior Coats, as the above. We guarantee to please every reasonable customer. who had been some time away, called to see me. He recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and kindly sending me a bottle, I took it, but with little hopes of recovery. I am thankful, however, to say that resulted in such a sweeping victory for the democrata. The republicans, on the other hand, are doing little more than quarreling among themselves. The fight in the ranks is between the friends of Senator Stockbridge and ex-Gov. Cyrus G. Luce. The latter is anxious to succeed the senior Senator from Michigan, hence the factional fight. The work of Senator McMillan, chairman of the state central committee, is greatly handicapped owing to the bitterness of the factions.

"The prominent republicans throughout the state manifest little interest in the state ticket.

state manifest little interest in the state ticket, and few of them are taking any part whatever in the campaign. Gen. Alger, who has always been very active heretofore, has not been heard of in politics since he failed to give more than seven of Michigan's votes to James G. Blaine at the Minneapolis convention.

"The republican nominee for governor, Mr. Rich, is no stronger today than he was two years ago, when he was overwhelmingly defeated. His record as railroad commissioner is not unstained, and while he is called a farmer the fact remains that he is a banker and holds mortgages on many Michigan farms.

mortgages on many Michigan farms.

"The action of Judge Cooley in declaring for Cleveland will tend to injure republicans. Judge Cooley is held in high esteem by the people of our state and his declaration will amount to more than an ordinary 'flop.'

"Yes," continued Mr. Miller, "everything points to democratic success in Michigan. Judge Morse, the democratic candidate for governor, is peoplar and well known. He has nt it is a food-to bring back plumpness to those who points to democratic success in Michigan. Judge Morse, the democratic candidate for governor, is popular and well known. He has never known defeat, being elected to the supteme bench when the rest of his ticket was buried under heavy republican majorities.

"Another feature of the situation that points to democratic success is the secret ballot. This system was first tried two years ago, when the democratic elected their entire state ticket—the first time in thirty-six years. Before the adoption of the secret ballot the working people in the great lumber and mining regions were voted solidly according to the dictates of their protected employers, but under the secret their protected employers, but under the secret ballot it is different, and the workingmen cast their suffrages as they please. The great Saginaw valley will give increased democratic majorities in November, and this was tried for highway robbery. The robbery was committed on James Venus on August 3 near the Soldiers' Home grounds. Mr. Venus was relieved of his gold watch. The testimony showed that Mr. Venus and Miss Saltzman (whom he has since married) were returning from a picnic, when they were stopped by colored man, who claimed to be an officer of some kind, and was told that the boss had sent him there to see that order was preserved. Then showing a pistol he took Mr. Venns' watch. Officer McCormick testified that he saw the prisoner's brother Robert with the watch and he said it was George's. He arrested George, who was identified by Venus. Mr. Hillyer, for the defendant, urged that the

Mr. Hillyer, for the defendant, urged that the question was whether the watch was given up through force or bodily fear or through traud, and if through fraud he claimed the defendant, however guilty of another offense, was not guilty of highway robbery.
